PATIENT LOCAL HOSPITAL DIES SUDDENLY TUESDAY EVENING—WELL KNOWN

Miss Madeline Maspero, Local Resident, Highly Connected, Dies From What Was Supposed to Be Acute Indigestion.

Miss Madeline Maspero, cousin of Mrs. R. T. Toulme and close friend of the Necaise and Cazeneuve families, died suddenly at the Kings' Daughters Hospital here on Tuesday, November 11th.

Miss Maspero had been suffering the night before from what she had thought was indigestion and was taken to the hospital Tuesday and just a few hours after her arrival there died.

The body was laid out at the Fahey Funeral Home with services there and at the grave by the Rev. Father William Clark and a requiem mass at nine o'clock on Wednesday morning at Our Lady of the Gulf Church with the Very Rev. Father Andrew J. Gmelch, pastor, officiating, and interment in Cedar Rest cemetery. Pallbearers were Millard Toulme, Joseph V. Bontemps, Sr., Fred Herlihy and George Toca.

Miss Maspero was a member of one of the oldest families on the Coast and had spent most of her life in Bay St. Louis where she lived a quiet life and had a wide circle of friends, by whom her passing is greatly regretted. She was perhaps better known as "Miss Tite" and lived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Soule.

KEESLER FIELD SOLDIERS

Seventy-five Cadets Handsomely Entertained at K. C. Home Saturday Evening.

One of the lovely gestures given for the entertainment of the boys in camp was the military dance given on last Saturday evening in the Knights of Columbus Home on Main street by Miss Hattie Favre when seventy-five of the cadets from Keesler Field were entertained.

The large hall had been entirely decorated in the tri-colors and several large American flags were placed about. Refreshments were served from a table, the center pieces of which was an enormous cake made in the form of an American flag with thirteen white and red stripes and forty-eight white stars set upon a blue square. The cake was a masterpiece and was made by the Bobby Aine Bakery and when cut served a delicious treat.

Music for dancing was enjoyed until a late hour by record player of Elmer Helwick, and Mrs. Margaret Backman, director of the Recreational Project in Hancock county, played a number of selections on the piano and assisted in serving and entertaining the large group of boys and girls present.

CHECKING UP ON HISTORY OF THIS SECTION, GULF COAST

William C. Wiegand Recalls Historical Incidents of Other Days.

(Down the Spillway, N. O. Item.) How New Orleans and the Mississippi Gulf Coast filled places in the lives of two famous West Point graduates, Jefferson Davis and Benjamin de Bonneville, is told in a new book by Captain William Baumer, Jr., history professor at the United States Military Academy. The book is entitled "Not All Warriors" and is published by Smith & Durrell, New York.

Captain Baumer also tells of activities of Bishop Leonidas Polk in Louisiana before he became a general in the army of the Confederate States of America.

While the story of Jefferson Davis may at one time have been well known to people in New Orleans, it is likely that the newer generations have forgotten that Jefferson Davis came to New Orleans by steamboat on his honeymoon, that he sailed from New Orleans at the head of a regiment of Mississippi riflemen to engage in the Mexican war, that he was the quartermaster department at New Orleans for inefficiency, that he departed here after having been wounded.

That his declining years were spent on the Mississippi Gulf Coast (the house, Beauvoir, stands today between Gulfport and Biloxi) writing "The Rise and Fall of the Confederate Government." And that he died in New Orleans in the Garden District home of a friend, of bronchitis, in 1889.

The body of Jefferson Davis, like the body of John McDonald, was taken from New Orleans. Davis now is entombed at Richmond, Virginia; McDonough in Baltimore. I doubt that the present day Association of Commerce would permit such a thing.

Samuel Davis, father of Jefferson Davis, once lived, prior to 1812, in the Bayou Tech country. The youngest of 10 children Thomas Jefferson Davis had older brothers who fought under General Jackson in the Battle of New Orleans. Davis was born in Kentucky in a log cabin within 100 miles of the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born.

On the Mississippi Gulf Coast strings were tied to the heart of Benjamin de Bonneville, for he came back to that locality after 23 years of army service and exploration in the Northwest. "He first saw the great, forested areas of the frontier in 1820," writes Baumer, "when he built a military road through Mississippi and then removed to a garrison at Bay St. Louis in that territory. In 1843 he came back to the Mississippi Gulf Coast, living at Pass Christian."

(I wonder if Captain Baumer could have erred a matter of a few miles in saying de Bonneville was garrisoned in Bay St. Louis, 1820. Fort Henry at Pass Christian, near Henderson Point, was established in about that year. It would hardly be likely that a garrison would be stationed at Bay St. Louis when there was a fort at Pass Christian.—Ed.)

COLMER LASHES C. I. O. LEWIS

Our Own South Mississippi Congressman, Although a Friend of Labor, Castigates Its Leader.

Washington—Special.—Congressman Wm. M. Colmer (Dem. 6th Mississippi District) started the ball rolling in the House with a tongue lashing of John L. Lewis of the C. I. O. Mr. Colmer was followed by Congressman Cox (D-Ga.), Megehee (D-Miss.), Platche (D-La.) and a number of others.

The Mississippi Congressman who has a consistent record in favor of labor legislation was nevertheless harsh in his castigation of the C. I. O. leader. His speech follows:

"Mr. Speaker, the entire country is alarmed and amazed at the prospect of an extended strike of several hundred thousand coal miners, which is now being engineered by John L. Lewis and his corps of labor henchmen. America has embarked upon a most gigantic program of aid to the democracies who are fighting Hitlerism. The President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretaries of War and Navy, as well as the leaders of the country generally are daily emphasizing the fact that this country faces the greatest crisis in its history. The very future of this country is at stake. The future of labor and of other American citizens is at stake. This crisis in which the Nation finds itself will determine whether American labor will continue to enjoy the freedom and progress and high standard of living or become virtual slaves under Hitlerism in this country as in the other countries which Mr. Hitler has overcome. Our American youth are being called upon to leave the comforts of their homes and the peaceful pursuit of life and happiness in order to combat Hitlerism. And yet in this appalling situation Mr. Lewis apparently is indifferent to the future of labor and the freedom of this country, has openly defied the President of the United States and imperiled this country's future."

"Mr. Speaker, the mining of coal is the basis of our whole defense program. It takes so many tons of coal to manufacture so many tons of coke. It takes a given quantity of coke to manufacture a given quantity of steel. Steel is required to manufacture guns, ammunition, ships, tanks, and planes. Therefore, the whole defense program threatens to be stopped in its tracks because Mr. Lewis and his henchmen have arbitrarily declared that arbitration and reason shall be ruthless laid aside in order that their point might be carried. It appears that the Rubicon has been reached; that a showdown is imminent. It is to be hoped that the President of the United States and the Congress will meet the issue squarely."

"In the name of God, in the name of freedom, in the name of the men of our Army and Navy who are today preparing to offer themselves as living sacrifices upon the altar of the country, how long—oh, how long, will this condition continue?"

HONORS CONFERRED ON TWO

At Meeting of Pere LeDuc Council, Bay St. Louis Knights of Columbus Monday Night.

Honorary life memberships to the Knights of Columbus were conferred on two members of the Pere LeDuc Council, Brothers George Boh and Joseph O. Mauffray, at a meeting of the council Monday night, November 10. Both have reached the age of seventy and have been an insurance member for at least twenty-five years, thereby becoming eligible for this unusual honor. Mr. Boh, although a resident of New Orleans for many years, has never transferred his membership; preferring to remain a member of the council to which he had been initiated and had early associations. Mr. Mauffray long has been connected with the activities of the local council and is a past state deputy. Grand Knight Fred Herlihy had kept the matter a secret from the honored Brothers until the last minute and it was a surprising anti-Climax to a pleasant evening.

Badges of honor were presented to Brothers Boh and Mauffray by State Deputy August J. Stone, guest of honor, who had made a special trip from Natchez to address the council. Mr. Stone made eloquent and interesting talk on the patriotic record of the Knights of Columbus and the importance of adhering to duty. He was introduced by District Deputy Bernard Hayden.

The new insurance plans adopted by the Knights of Columbus were explained by Past State Deputy Cabibi. This new insurance now contains all of the best features carried by the regular insurance companies. Other speakers were Father Moran, formerly of Bay St. Louis, Father Costello and Mr. Leo Ford who asked the Knights to cooperate with the Red Cross drive Hancock county which he is in charge. Father Moran spoke of Catholic activity and Father Costello about American freedom.

A supper of boiled shrimp followed. Among the visiting members were Father Moran, who accompanied Mr. Stone, Grand Knight E. Mangano of Gulfport Council; District Deputy Bernard Hayden and Francis Hursey of Pass Christian. Mr. Hursey led the members in song, Father Neymeyer furnishing the music with piano.

It was announced that at the next regular meeting, November 17, Memorial Services will be held. All members are urged to attend the solemn and impressive service for the departed brothers.

MY EXPERIENCE AS A PAGE BOY.

BY CURTIS FAVRE

In the latter part of February, 1940, Hon. W. M. Colmer of the Sixth Congressional District of Mississippi, talked to my father and asked if he would allow me to accept a position as a Page in the House of Representatives.

For ten months I dreamed of the day when my appointment, would come. Finally on the 2nd day of January, 1941, Mr. Colmer wired that I had been appointed and that I should report for duty on the morning of January 6th.

Accompanied by my father, I left Bay St. Louis on Saturday night, January 4th, and reached Washington on Monday morning. I reported to the Door Keeper's Office about ten o'clock. This was the day on which the President was to address a joint session of Congress. I found the halls of Congress roped off and guards stationed at all entrances. It was necessary that I have a pass in order to be admitted. I was taken by one of the Assistant Door Keepers to the Chief Page of the Republican side of the House, having been assigned to service on the Republican side, and I immediately went to work.

At twelve o'clock the House convened and took up some formal matters, and recessed until one o'clock to meet in joint session with the Senate, at which time the President was escorted in. Prior to the time that he entered the house, the members of the Supreme Court and of the Cabinet were ushered in. The President began his address and the House and Galleries were filled. In order to have a seat in the Gallery, it was necessary that one secure a pass from his Senator or Congressman, and these were at a premium.

The President's speech was forceful and to the point, and was well received amid much applause. Thoughts ran through my mind as to how fortunate I had been in receiving this appointment. There are about fifty Pages in the House of Representatives, and having been selected and appointed as a Page was quite an honor. Here I was, just a mere child,

THE FAMILY BUDGET.

"How can a family of two live on an income of $15 per week?" asks a reader.

It's easy if the family budget is properly prepared. Here's one way of doing it:

Husband's whiskey and beer.....$8.80

Wife's soft drinks.....1.65

Meat and groceries.....Buy on credit

Rent.....Pay next week

Clothing.....Have it charged

Light and fuel.....Let the bill run

Telephone.....Ditto

Dog food.....2.50

Movies.....2.00

Friendly poker games.....3.40

That seems to put the budget somewhat out of balance, being a total of $18.69.

It looks like it will be necessary to cut out soft drinks for the wife and catch some better poker hands to provide cafeteria money for the children.—Jackson News.

BAY HIGH HOST TO N. O. CADETS

Local Tigers Will Play New Orleans Academy This Friday Afternoon.

The Bay High Tigers will play host to the New Orleans Academy Cadets on Friday afternoon, November 14 at S. S. C. Stadium. The kick-off will be at 2 o'clock.

This will make the Tigers fifth encounter with Louisiana opposition this season, having beaten three Louisiana teams while losing one decision.

The Cadets, although not as strong as in previous years should furnish the Tigers with stubborn opposition. Both teams look forward to this annual affair and seem to play their best brand of ball against each other.

Coaches Boyd and Glass have been sending their charges through long practice drills brushing up on both offense and defense and they should be in fine shape for the coming game.

Three Mississippi Solons Back Idea Of Sea Freedom.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Only three of Mississippi's representatives were committed today to support of revision of the neutrality act to permit American merchant ships to enter combat zones.

All seven voted to arm merchantmen ships when the bill was before the House previously.

Representative Colmer said he would oppose them because he was against entrance of American ships into combat areas. Representatives Rankin and McGehee would not commit themselves.

Representative Jamie L. Whitten, chosen to succeed Wall Dosey, now a senator, is expected in tonight to take the oath in time for the vote.

Surviving are his wife and five sons, Jesse, Randolph, Rod, Coburn, Perry and two daughters, Mrs. Bud Little and Mrs. Charles Ladner.

WHEN WILL THE WAR END?

THE consensus of most military experts is that the present war will last a long time and that, the longer it lasts the more involved will be our participation.

This may be the true picture of the situation, evidently based upon the belief that Hitler will succeed in knocking the Russians out as an effective military opponent. What of it, if the Red army lasts, if the Soviet continues its unexpected resistance to the Nazis?

Nobody knows. Our own amateur opinion is that the war can be shortened considerably by speeding ample supplies to the Soviet. If this is done effectively and the Red army maintains its present fighting power through the winter, the Nazis will be in a bad way.

In fact, if the Russians can take the offensive in the Spring or early Summer, of next year, and the British put on military pressure elsewhere, there is the chance that the Germans will be definitely on the way out with 1942.

ATTACKING U. S. SHIPS.

IT is a strange interlude in the Atlantic, with American warships openly attacked and destroyed and the nation, which went to war with Spain when the battleship Maine was destroyed, constituting the most remarkable debating society in human existence.

American merchant ships have been attacked in the South Atlantic, where they had a right to be, and in the water west of Iceland, where they also had a right to be. They have been destroyed by German submarines, in a mad effort to persuade the people of this country that it is dangerous to be friendly with the foes of the Nazi regime.

Repeated attacks upon our ships emphasize that Hitler regards the United States as an enemy nation. He is not yet ready to declare war upon us, or to challenge us to a full accounting but the day that he conquers Great Britain, if he ever does, will be the occasion for an ultimatum to this country.

THE WAR THIS WEEK.

TENOR of war news this week has taken a decided turn. The entire situation summed it looks encouraging.

Premier Churchill announced in parliament this week that should Japan declare war on the United States England would declare war on Japan within an hour following.

Russians are still holding Leningrad and Moscow, Germany's two major objectives; the British sunk eight of nine merchant ships in convoy and two destroyers, and officially declares its control of the air is now on a par if not greater than that of the Nazis.

In addition to its aerial force increased and reaching a point of superiority points out the fact that its Navy has been so reinforced that it can spare a goodly part of its ships out into the Pacific to fight for America against the Japanese.

The general situation has so improved that the picture has changed entirely and the war from now on will take on a different aspect.

A WAR OF TANKS.

JOSEPH Stalin is talking hard sense when he says this is a "war of tanks."

The experience of the battlefield lends emphasis to his words and demonstrates conclusively that the victory will belong to the side with the greatest industrial capacity, as measured by production in action on the firing line.

The United States, we are told, made 500 tanks in 1940, will make 5,000 this year and more than 25,000 next year. Some of them will go to our army; others will be shipped to foreign nations for use in fighting aggressors.

The present monthly production of tanks is estimated at 600 monthly, 325 light, 13-12-ton tanks and 275 medium, 30-ton tanks. The heavy tank is under study, with military experts dubious of its value.

DEMAND FOR MORE HOUSES.

THE scarcity of habitable dwelling houses in Bay St. Louis has reached a point of utmost seriousness. This is a detriment to our progress and keeps people away who would otherwise reside in Bay St. Louis. Residents have difficulty when it becomes necessary to move. It is a pity we are so handicapped. People are looking for habitable dwelling houses, modern and satisfactory for better living. However, some do not wish to pay the price nor do their purses afford better houses. But in any event the situation is one that the hope is expressed may soon be remedied.

The people of the conquered nations of Europe have a good idea of what Hitler's new order means.

Incidentally, the Red Cross Roll Call is underway and every American ought to join this great organization.

The United States has only one foreign policy; and we stand with our country when she faces a foreign foe.

The nation proclaims Thanksgiving Day according to some people in order for the people to have a day off from counting or seeing a football game.

THANKSGIVING THOUGHTS.

THE people of Bay St. Louis will soon be observing Thanksgiving Day, in accordance with American custom and while the world outlook is unhappy there are many reasons for us to be thankful to the Creator we worship.

Life is precious to every individual and, as a beginning for Thanksgiving thoughts, let us be grateful for existence itself. There may be higher forms of life somewhere in a boundless universe but human beings should appreciate the opportunity to grow spiritually on a mundane globe.

Next to life we would be thankful for the freedom that the Almighty has decreed for men and women. We live our lives, under no compulsion but our own willingness to attempt to approach the Divine Spirit in relationship with other struggling human beings. So, while the shadow of sorrow blots out peace, we should appreciate or spiritual freedom, a gift beyond comparison.

Men and women of today should be thankful for the upward struggle of men, which has gradually shaped for us a world of industry and intelligence, where all enjoy the fruits of the ages of the past. Born as helpless infants we inherit the greatness of former residents of the earth and we profit by their experiences good and bad. It is a magnificent legacy that the former years have bequeathed to those alive now and it should be accepted with thanks.

The slowly developed civilization of the race is expressed in material progress, which comes to us without cost and is often enjoyed without a careless thought as to the source and the strength of our way of life. Strongly challenged, as it is today, or conception of man's place in nature belongs to the ages and shall endure if the men and women of the present are courageous in faith and intelligent in action.

On Thanksgiving Day reverent Americans look with faith to God, giving testimony to belief in a Supreme Being, interested in the welfare of men and the development of saints. It is a religious day of deep emotion, too often disregarded for lesser interests as individuals seek escape from every day trials. Unfortunately, the churches of the land sometimes take the lead in the "black out" of Thanksgiving Day as a religious occasion and, for the convenience of the unconcerned, provide no service for the devoutly minded.

We do not expect every resident of this community to be worship-minded on Thanksgiving Day but we believe that there are many citizens anxious to participate in religious services on the day set apart by Presidential proclamation as an occasion to return thanks to the Divine Being. It is impossible to expect all people to agree upon any phase of religious thought but it is essential that those who desire a Thanksgiving service should find one available on Thanksgiving Day.

RETURN OF MAYOR BLAIZE.

THE city of Bay St. Louis this week welcomed back home its beloved citizen and capable and enterprising mayor, the Hon. G. Y. Blaize, who has been absent several weeks following a major operation in New Orleans.

Our people rejoice that the operation and the aftermath as well have proven successful. Mayor Blaize was quite an ill man. But thanks to surgery and modern science he has been made anew and his attending physician-surgeon says he will feel better and be like a new man hereafter.

Mayor Blaize has devoted the later years of his life to and in the interest of the city of Bay St. Louis and its people. He has given his time and his efforts in the interest of the people. Devoted to the city and dedicating his time and ability to the betterment of its citizens it is no wonder that he has and is still making the city of Bay St. Louis a progressive and successful chief magistrate.

During his illness, Commissioner H. Grady Perkins served as mayor pro tem, and will do so until His Honor has fully recovered and again will take full reins of the city within his particular province.

The wish is expressed, and joined in by many, that Mayor Blaize will continue on the upward grade and that he will soon be back in his accustomed places.

HOTEL MEN HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING.

NEWS columns of The Echo last week carried a news story, telling of the monthly meeting in Bay St. Louis of hotel owners and operators along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. This meeting was an important one inasmuch it meant a subject for discussion of interest to the prosperity of the coast this season.

The subject of winter tourists for the Coast was discussed—ways and means of interesting the large number who might go to Florida, California or other places if not sought for.

This meeting was important, particularly at this time. It meant for the success of this section this winter. The Coast is now equipped with ample hotel accommodations and there only remains to keep the rooms filled.

Hotel owners and operators have accomplished for this section as much as any other organized body of workers and we doff our hats to the hotel keepers. May their tribe increase, may their business increase and may the number of tourists and visitors increase in manifold proportion over that of other years.

THINK THIS ONE OVER.

William Allen White, of Kansas, best-known editorial writer in America, flings this question at the isolationists: "If we had not furnished England with arms and munitions after Dunkerque, if we had not extended our island bases from Newfoundland to Trinidad by trading England down a year and a half ago without intervention, without the security we now have as a result of our support of Great Britain, would we be much nearer the brink of war at this juncture than we are today?" If they say our foreign policy is forcing us steadily into war, can they maintain that their foreign policy would not already have taken us there?

When the members of the United States of America are asked, "What are we to do?" they are told, "We are to do nothing."

THANKSGIVING.

(For the Sea Coast Echo)

BLESSINGS large and blessings small.

We thank Thee, Lord, for each and all. Plenty here, we have to eat. No ration cards, we have to beat. No shelters from mad bombs on high. Nor screams from wounded, as they die.

No fear to open wide our door. Lest soldiers knock us to the floor. A country here, so full of peace. Oh God, when will that bloodshed cease?

And though we have no black outs here.

With such a man alive, we fear—And so, this day, we come to pray And ask, that War, will cease, and Peace, will come, to stay.

BY LITA L. MORRILL.
Bay St. Louis, Miss., Nov. 20, 1941.Some Simple Facts
About the Sufferings of The Chinese People.

A nurse in one of the hospitals in China writes as follows of what happens after a bombing raid, when the wounded are brought in to be operated on—without anesthetic, because the need for anesthetics is so much greater than the supply.

"Even the children are very brave about it. They realize that there is not enough ether to go around so they grit their teeth and bear it. Sometimes, of course, they cannot help screaming, and sometimes they faint away. It is not watching their anguish that's so hard to bear. It's the fact that so many of them die of shock, who could be saved if we had ether."

The brave Chinese have had to accept as inevitable the ghastly medical suffering of operation without ether. Let us not comfort ourselves by saying the Chinese do not feel pain as we do. They are flesh and blood and bone, as we are. Their nerve centers are alive and sensitive as ours are. They are compelled to agony.

In China a dollar buys more relief for a human being than it does anywhere else in the world. One dollar will buy ether for fifteen operations. Ten dollars will save thirty people from lockjaw. Twenty dollars will supply food and clothes and shelter for one refugee for a whole year. One hundred dollars will start two small factories making surgical gauze.

The Chinese people are doing all they can to help themselves in their desperate situation. They are distributing food to their homeless. They have set up small factories to make some of the drugs they lack. In army work shops they are forging crude surgical scissors and scalpels. In other work shops they make gauze. But China is not in its fifth year of war. They are brave, heroic people, and their fight is the fight of free peoples against the ruthless forces of fascism. As Christmas comes to us again, let us share it with them. STATE OF MISSISSIPPI
IS LAND OF PLENTY,
SAYS AN AUTHORITY

Hancock County Home Demonstration Agent Advises Proper Diet.

Stressing need of "food for fitness"

Dr. Felix J. Underwood of the Mississippi State Board of Health says: "In Mississippi, an agricultural state, a veritable land of plenty, last year there were 162 deaths and 4,138 cases of pellagra—purely a deficiency disease."

"Most people who have it lack not only the vitamin which prevents pellagra but also other essential vitamins. Because they do not have the right food, many people are below par physically with such symptoms as poor vision, night blindness, dental defects, gums which bleed easily, anemia, neuritis, or skin disorders, and never guess that the trouble is lack of proper food."

"Deficiencies of vitamin B complex are the most serious. The present development in the enrichment of flour with some of the most essential food elements is an important step forward. The food value of enriched flour is not, however equal to the whole grain product."

"We have an agricultural capacity in excess of current consumption and adequate to meet nutritional needs. It is up to us to suit the demand to the supply."

Eleanor Smith, home demonstration agent advises that good sources of vitamin B are milk (all forms), whole grains, nuts, beans, peas and other legumes, live and other edible organs, egg yolk, lean pork, oysters. Fruits and vegetables contain some vitamin B.

THROUGHOUT STATE

Introduced Varieties Having Wide Adaptability, Fuller Knowledge Enables Large Increase in Plantings.

(To the Sea Coast Echo)

State College, Mississippi—Azaleas whose magnificence was once confined to the most southerly locations, are now flourishing on home grounds throughout Mississippi. This, according to F. S. There are several groups of azaleas each having its own characteristics, and a knowledge of these character-

THINGS have changed a lot in 25 years—yet there is much that is the same.

In 1916 it was Preparedness; in 1941, National Defense. But now the scale is bigger, the pace is faster. There was pressure on the telephone business then. The pressure is infinitely greater now. New training camps, new aviation fields, new munition plants, new shipyards and many other defense industries, all need telephones. Everyone is moving faster... and, when a nation hurries, it does so by telephone. Southern Bell spent about $4,600,000 on new construction in 1916. It is spending over $51,000,000 in 1941.

The entire Southern Bell organization serving nine Southern states, is giving "first call" to Defense. We believe you would want it that way.

istics is quite important, says Mr. Blossom, Salmon Beauty and Snow.

The Indica Azalea was first introduced into the state, and varieties belonging to this group are, hardy only in south Mississippi within about 150 miles of the coast. Indica varieties include: Pride of Mobile, Formosa, Elegans, Orchid, Criterion, President Clay, Indica Alba, Glory of Sunnyside, Prince of Orange, and Salmon.

Varities of the Hardy Japanese group are hardy throughout Mississippi and display a wide range of colors over a long blooming period. Some of the most desirable are: Amoena, Flame, Hardy Firefly, Kaempferi, Macrantha and Yavagiri. A mulch of leaves, pine straw, or peat is almost essential to conserve moisture.

Azaleas are easy to transplant when moved with a ball of earth, preferably from November 1 to April 1. Soils must be acid. In the prairie section of northeast Mississippi, the Delta, and the brown loam area, soils may be made acid by adding peat, sulphur, or alum. Well-drained, sandy loam soils with plenty of organic matter are most satisfactory. A mulch of leaves, pine straw, or peat is almost essential to conserve moisture. When such a mulch is provided and the soil is fairly fertile, profusely in a wide range of colors. Chlorosis (yellowing between the veins of the leaves) is the result of being hardy throughout Mississippi, an alkaline soil or poor root development. Some of the most desirable varieties, ornament, and may be corrected by a 100 lb. from one bush. Rinckel, biweekly application of ferrous sulfate. Christmas Cheer, Hexe, Apple phosphate, 4 ounces to 5 gallons of water.

President Proclaims Nov. 20 Nation's Harvest Holiday

President Roosevelt proclaimed Thursday, November 20 as Thanksgiving Day and asked the American people to observe it with prayers for "a speedy end to strife and the establishment on earth of freedom, brotherhood and justice for enduring time."

It was his third and final setting of Thanksgiving a week earlier than customary. Next year the holiday will revert to its original last Thursday in the month for the whole nation.

The president instituted the early observance in 1939 at the request of retail merchants who thought their Xmas business might pick up if there were a long interval between Thanksgiving and December 25.

This change made no difference—and that after 1941 the country could arrange its calendar and sports events for the Sixteen States will cling to the traditional Turkey Day.

Armistice Day Program At Waveland School

Exercises were held in the auditorium. Patriotic songs accompanied by flutes, tonettes and harmonicas. A trumpet solo, Stars and Stripes Forever by John Van Quinen, 7th grade pupil. Reading by grades. This program was instructive as well as ceremonial.

ORTIE THEATER TO SHOW "BADLANDS OF DAKOTA" SUN-MON

Starring Robert Stack and Ann Rutherford. With Richard Dix, Frances Farmer, Brod Crawford, Hugh Herbert, Andy Devine, Lon Chaney, Jr., Fuzzy Knight And The Jesters—Reckless Era Revived In Spectacular Movie

When the history of the picture industry is finally written, the chronicler will measure the progress of the art by the milestones of the big western pictures.

Almost every year has produced at least one mammoth western—"The Covered Wagon," "The Iron Horse," "Clunaron," "The Virginian," "Dodge City," "When the Daltons Rode," to name a few.

Latest of the frontier "epics" is Universal's "Badlands of Dakota."

The picture, which comes to the Ortie Theater, Sunday and Monday, is of the same big-scale proportions that have marked its history-making predecessors. Like them, it embraces a glowing portion of frontier history, alive with characters which typify romance, adventure and glamour. And it presents a cast of excellent players.

The production stars Robert Stack and Ann Rutherford, two of Hollywood's most promising young players. The supporting cast includes Richard Dix, Frances Farmer, Brod Crawford, Hugh Herbert, Andy Devine and Lon Chaney, Jr.

The story concerns Deadwood, in what was then (1876) the Territory of Dakota, and begins with the discovery of gold in the Black Hills. As the story unfolds, Wild Bill Hickok, Calamity Jane and General Custer tread their way through the plot. The tale ends with the destruction of Deadwood by the Sioux Indians and the rescue of the townspeople by General Custer and his famous Seventh Cavalry.

THREE BIG STARS SHINE IN "HOLD BACK THE DAWN" AT A & G

Three of Hollywood's brightest stars shine in "Hold Back the Dawn," Paramount's strange and exciting romance which opens at the A & G Theater Sunday and Monday.

The trio, Charles Boyer, Olivia de Havilland and Paulette Goddard, are a guarantee in themselves of super-entertainment. Add Director Mitchell Leisen and Producer Arthur Hornblow, Jr., the men who gave us "Wanted Wings," and the film becomes an odds-on favorite, sure to justify the raves of preview audiences. Lavishly filmed, the picture's tense drama is lightened by moments of hilarious comedy.

"Hold Back the Dawn," tells the story of what happens when a cynical, unscrupulous European man-of-the-world attempts to crash the U. S. immigration barriers by marrying an unsuspecting American girl. Most of the action is set in a colorful Mexican border town, where Director Leisen has painted a screen picture filled with the humor, romance and tragedy of refugees from Europe's holocaust.

The dark-eyed Boyer, of course, is the scoundrel, with Olivia de Havilland as his school teacher victim. The radiant Miss Goddard, armed with exotic glamour and all the wiles of the worldly wise, is Boyer's one-time dancing partner. Her jealousy lights the powder train that touches off the picture's explosive climax.

Critics and film notables who have seen previews of "Hold Back the Dawn" pronounce it the most unusual picture of the year and say it is high-powered drama in which Boyer turns in the most exciting performance of his career. Miss de Havilland's rendition of the little school teacher carries her to new acting honors and even greater praise than accorded her for her outstanding portrayal of "Melanie" in "Gone with the Wind."

The screen play for "Hold Back the Dawn" was written by Charles Brackett and Billy Wilder from a story by Ketti Frings.

The said Commission on the date therein stated as the same appears of record in Minute Book J at Page 542, an official record in said office and in my official care and custody. Witness my signature this 14 day of October, 1941.

A. S. CODY,

Secretary, State Tax Commission.

The Board of Supervisors in pursuance to said order of the State Tax Commission, having met in Special Session for the purpose of carrying out the instructions of the State Tax Commission relative to the increase in assessments of certain classes of personal property at the Courthouse in the City of Bay St. Louis, said County of Hancock, proceeded to equalize said personal assessments pursuant to said order, that it has made such changes in the assessments that it is satisfied should be made in order to fix the assessment of personal property at its actual values so as to establish equality and uniformity of taxation according to values among the taxpayers of said County, and that this Board has added to the said personal property assessments found to be omitted therefrom and that this Board has changed and corrected all erroneous assessments, and now being of the opinion that said personal assessment roll contains fair, equal, uniform and just assessments, according to the value of personal property and in conformity with the order of the State Tax Commission.

It is, therefore, ordered and adjudged that the personal assessment roll for the year 1941, and the assessments therein contained be, and they are hereby accepted, approved, and made final, and that the Clerk of this Board shall certify said assessment roll to the State Tax Commission and to the Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County in the manner provided for by law.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING SATURDAY AT LOCAL CATHOLIC CHURCH.

BEFORE an enormous gathering of relatives and friends, the marriage of Miss Margie Scaside, youngest daughter of Mrs. A. Scaside, and the late Mr. Scaside to Mr. Paul Laguens, son of Mrs. Pauline Laguens and the late Mr. Laguens, was solemnized at a nuptial mass at ten thirty on Saturday morning at Our Lady of the Gulf Church with the Very Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch officiating and four nephews of Miss Scaside, Charles Carter, A. J. and Toby Scaside and Robert Murrigh, serving as altar boys.

The church was beautifully decorated with quantities of white pom-pom chrysanthemums, gladioli and fern held in large baskets, and down the center aisle arranged at every few pews were tall white baskets holding clusters of these flowers and on the altar tall seven branch candelabra held lighted candles and gold vases held clusters of the white chrysanthemums, gladioli and fern.

Miss Scaside entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Arthur A. Scaside, and was radiantly pretty in a bridal gown of white tulle with a sweetheart neck and long train, and carrying an arm bouquet of white bride's roses and hollyhairs. Her long veil of illusion was held in place by a heart-shaped coronet of tulle trimmed in orange blossoms.

The attendants on the bride were her sisters, Mrs. Leo Blaize, who was her maid of honor, and whose gown was made similar to the bride's of hacienda green tulle and long train, and wearing a small hat of the same material as her dress made with open crown and heart-shaped brim. Mrs. Blaize carried an old-fashioned bouquet of tallman roses and small rust colored chrysanthemums.

The other sisters, Mrs. Curtis Matherne and Miss Frances Scaside, were the bridesmaids and wore gowns of golden sun tulle and also made similar to the bride's, with the small hats of the same material and carried small round bouquets of chrysanthemums in shades ranging from gold to deep rust.

Mr. Laguens had as his best man Mr. Dan Caseneuve and the groomsmen were Mr. Fontaine Villar and Mr. Curtis Matherne, all of New Orleans.

During the ceremony and signing of the register, Miss Gertrude DiMartino of New Orleans sang beautifully the Pandi, Angelicus, the Agnus Dei and the Ave Maria.

A large reception was held at the home of the bride's mother immediately after the ceremony and a roomful of beautiful gifts of silver, crystal and china displayed.

Throughout the reception rooms of the Scaside home were vases and baskets of white flowers and an enormous and beautiful wedding cake of five tiers was set on a pretty table in the dining room.

After the cutting of the bride's cake, Mr. and Mrs. Laguens left on a motor trip to Florida, Mrs. Laguens choosing for a going-away costume an olive green dress with brown coat, hat and accessories. Upon their return, they will be at home in an apartment at 1916 Esplanade avenue in New Orleans where they will reside.

The wedding called much interest here and in New Orleans where both young people are well known, and a large number of persons motored here for the event. Attending the wedding also were Monsignor Charles P. Greco and Father Anthony Wegmann.

VISITING LADIES ENJOY "GAY 90s PARTY."

Thirty ladies of the Gulf Coast Auxiliary from Gulfport were guests of Misses Levia and Miriam Engman Friday night of last week at a hilarious party, representing the Gay Nineties. Members of the party arrived in a group about 8:00 o'clock, donned in costumes of the unforgettable period, that provoked no end of laughter. The wonderment of the affair was to the effect from where such costumes were resurrected. Surely forgotten trunks and attics were ransacked.

Various games apro pos to the period, represented, afforded a source of endless enjoyment. Supper courses were served during the evening.

Mrs. J. K. Neese, president, was judged as first; Mrs. Harry Ryland, second and Mrs. Frank Thompson, all of Gulfport second and third respectively, as winners for the most ludicrous looking attires.

The Misses Engman are past masters in the art of entertaining and this occasion was no exception.

Bombers Must Breathe

Today American-made bombers can fly at the unbelievable height of six miles. Here is the story of the small but all important device that helps make stratosphere flying possible.

1. It started on Fike's Peak in 1916, where Army Air Corps engineers showed that an airplane engine could be made to run efficiently 2 1/2 miles above sea level.

2. This amazing feat was possible because a "turbo-supercharger" developed by the Army Air Corps and G.E. engineers—pumps extra oxygen into the carburetors.

3. For 22 years these engineers have worked constantly to improve this vital device. As a result, U.S. bombers can fly above the reach of anti-aircraft fire.

4. Dr. S. A. Moss, G.E. engineer who pioneered in this work, now at 69, has the thrill of watching the supercharger help carry our fliers higher than any others!
